

Business, Management & Legal

Homeland Security & Emergency Management (HSEM) Information Session

Thursday, September 6, 2012, Downtown Figueroa Courtyard

uclaextension.edu/homeland

Prepare to launch your career in this high-growth field!

A substantial focus on security, protection and emergency response has emerged not only from 9/11 and terrorist activities but has evolved from the severity of natural disasters and infrastructure failures on major population centers.

Attend our free information session to learn more about how UCLA Extension's Homeland Security and Emergency Management (HSEM) Certificate can help you broaden your employment prospects and specialize in one of the fastest growing careers. Our certificate is 6-courses and can be completed in 9 months. The new hybrid format comprises of courses that blend live classroom instruction with online review modules and testing.

EVENT AGENDA

- Explore the benefits of UCLA Extension's HSEM Certificate
- Learn from experts about opportunities in the HSEM field
- Take advantage of early pricing and sign up for fall courses

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Government agency employees (federal, state, local)
- Private business managers in such areas as human resources, finance, project management, communications and facilities management
- Real estate and private property managers
- Military personnel transitioning into civilian careers
- Current college students or recent college graduates looking for socially satisfying careers

SCHEDULE AND LOCATION

Thursday, 6-8:00pm

September 6

Downtown Los Angeles:
Figueroa Courtyard

261 S. Figueroa St., Suite 100W

Doors open at 5:30pm. Structured event starts promptly at 6pm.

Reservations are required so RSVP now!

Call Shane Henderson (310) 206-2920 or email shenders@uclaextension.edu to reserve your space or for more information.